

Exploring the Geology of Bath

A Buckinghamshire Geology Group field trip

Date: June 9th 2018, 10am to 5pm Leader: Graham Hickman

This trip will look at some of the locations near Bath where William Smith made his ground breaking discovery of using fossils to correlate and map strata. Including a short walk around central Bath to see the different ways the Georgian architects have used Bath Stone.

FREE for BGG members, £3 for non-members.
